Dear [Agent],

I am delighted to submit my 57992 -word Christian Inspirational book entitled, "Walking Free", It is a story of the struggle of seeking justice amidst the uncertainty of prejudices. It was the unwavering faith that fueled the innocent prisoner that one day he will be free.

Narrated in this story is my personal, spiritual, and emotional experience while I'm incarcerated for more than twenty-two years. Somebody came and believed in me that one day I will be free and walk freely. I have found my strong support and who also became my lifetime partner, a selfless woman. We got married while I was still locked up, even our races did not define our togetherness. It was a tough and long journey being in prison. The trial for my case was rigged and slow-moving yet, it was our faith that sustained us to continue the appeal and win the battle.

The story imparts a lesson and shares the essence of strong faith, obedience to God, patience during adversities, character building, and redemption, making me win against the battle of injustice. In that journey, sometimes there were valleys, mountain tops, seemingly defeats, triumphs, laughter, pain, and tears.

I am ecstatic to present to you the manuscript of this book, which would be ready anytime you request it. I am certainly looking forward to your thoughts about my book. Thank you so much for your time.

Sincerely,

Gregory Oliver

Dear [Agent],

I am delighted to submit my 123,435-word Christian Inspirational book entitled "Faithwalk: A Walk from Darkness to the LIGHT." It is a story of the struggle to learn to discern God's voice and to walk in the obedience necessary to put in motion the faith required that would move mountains in our lives.

My spiritual, emotional, and intellectual struggles during my growing years have been narrated in this story. Also, it portrays the power of spiritual cleansing and growth of a believer "with the washing of the water of the Word" (Ephesians 5:26) which can be compared to a garment in the washing machine of life: --a garment that is being spiritually cleansed inside and out, the tumbling and agitation of the life's experiences. In that way, the Lord revealed to me the truth that is uncovered during my personal journey of faith.

The Story imparts a lesson and shares the essence of self-discovery, character building and redemption, making me victorious.

I am ecstatic to present to you the manuscript of this book which would be ready anytime you request it. I am certainly looking forward to your thoughts about my book Thank you so much for your time.

Sincerely,

Bonnie Lou Oliver
